

Claims Data Reporting – Hurricane Ian

October 04, 2022

Pursuant to Florida Statutes section 624.307, the Florida Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) has provided notice to required insurance filers to file catastrophe claims data for Hurricane Ian. A list of required filers can be found here.

Insurers should use the Simplified 2022 Catastrophe Reporting Form (CRF) submitted through the Insurance Regulation Filing System (IRFS). Information on the CRF and IRFS can be found here. OIR is requiring daily simplified catastrophe claims reporting for Hurricane Ian through Friday, October 7. Required filing began on Friday, September 30. Data must be submitted daily by 12 p.m. ET, including Saturday, October 1, and Sunday, October 2.

To see the daily reports, visit <https://www.floir.com/home/ian> and scroll down to Hurricane Ian Catastrophe Claims Data. Currently, OIR indicates total estimated insured losses to be $1,613,275,155. Insurers are required to report estimated and paid losses.

Please do not hesitate to reach out if you have questions about the data call or need assistance from Carlton Fields' insurance regulatory team.
