

15% of 2020 Ransomware Payments Carried a Sanctions Violation Risk

May 11, 2021

Carlton Fields cybersecurity attorney Christina Gagnier was quoted in a The Record article about the potential sanctions violations that could come down on small- and medium-sized companies after they completed ransomware payments to parties connected to a U.S. - sanctioned entity. Read the article.

Related Practices

[Cybersecurity and Privacy
Technology](#)

Related Industries

Technology

