

Carlton Fields Blockchain Attorney Andrew (Drew) Hinkes Featured in News Coverage of Cryptocurrency Regulatory Landscape

June 15, 2020

Carlton Fields blockchain attorney Andrew (Drew) Hinkes offered commentary in Coindesk about two timely issues affecting the regulatory landscape for cryptocurrency. Hinkes authored the article “U.S. Supreme Court’s Computer Fraud Ruling Has Big Implications for Crypto,” outlining how the cryptocurrency industry may be affected by an upcoming ruling that will interpret the 1986 Computer Fraud and Abuse Act. In another Coindesk article, “Louisiana State Senate to Consider Crypto Business Licensing Bill,” Hinkes was quoted discussing a Louisiana state bill on regulating and licensing digital currency businesses.

Related Practices

Blockchain and Digital Currency

